

Brian Newman, Chief Financial Officer

Brian is UPS's Chief Financial Officer, responsible for accounting, finance, financial planning, taxes and treasury, as well as audit and compliance activities. He also serves as the company's senior liaison to the investor, finance and analyst community. He is a member of the UPS Management Committee, reporting to the company's Chairman and CEO.

Most recently, Brian served as Executive Vice-President, Finance, Operations and Information Technology, Latin America for PepsiCo, Inc., where he was responsible for all finance and operations activity across the Latin America region.

Previously, he served as PepsiCo Inc.'s Executive Vice President, Global Operations responsible for global operations including supply chain, global procurement, global security, enterprise risk management, productivity initiatives, and transformation, along with having oversight for strategy.

After beginning his PepsiCo career in Corporate Strategy in 1993, Brian assumed several leadership positions, including Global Head, e-Commerce; CFO, Global Groups; Senior Vice President, Corporate Strategy; Senior Vice President and CFO, PepsiCo China; Corporate Treasurer, Pepsi Bottling Group; CFO, PepsiCo Beverages Russia; CFO and Vice President Strategy, PepsiCo Beverages Canada; and Vice President, Business Development, Pepsi Bottling Group Europe and Director of Finance for Pepsi Cola North America.

A dual citizen of Ireland and the U.S., Brian serves on the board of Georgetown University's Board of Regents and School of Foreign Service, AT&T Executive Client Advisory Council and Part of the Solution (POTS), a leading non-profit organization assisting individuals living in poverty.

He is a graduate of Georgetown University and earned an MBA from New York University's Stern School of Business. Brian has also completed Harvard Business Schools' Executive program for global leadership.

Download hi-resolution headshot of Brian Newman here